

George Armstrong Custer

Lot # 2405 Lt. Colonel George Armstrong Custer Post Civil War Autograph "with compliments of G. A. Custer, Lt. Col. 7th [cavalry]" This may be the only piece General Custer ever signed as a Colonel after the Civil War. Although he was demoted from General, he always used 'General' since he really didn't accept the demotion. The obverse is a photograph of 'GENERAL CUSTER' in civilian clothes. The autograph has been certified by PSA/DNA. #83906442. Est. $20,000 ~ $25,000 HWAC# 42826

Lot # 2406 Death of Custer Lithograph

Lithograph: : "Death of Custer in the Battle of the Little Big Horn" by P. J. B., 14/100. Calhoun Print. No date. Measures 16 x 18.5" with border. Image is 8.5" x 12.5." Very nice condition.

Est. $200 ~ $350 HWAC# 38477

Lot # 2407 Leather Pouch / Shoulder Bag A damaged leather pouch, most likely originally a shoulder bag. Hand-stitched, and likely made of thin buckskin, this almost certainly dates from the mid-19th century. Due to the extensive burning and singeing of this bag, This artifact could be a souvenir salvaged from the burning of Black Kettle's village at Washita Valley in 1868. The style and construction certainly fits that time period. From the Dick Reyes Collection, Carson City. Many of the items Reyes received from the Custer family went to a private collector, then to a Butterfield & Butterfield auction in the 1990's. Unfortunately, Reyes never marked all the objects before Alzheimer's took over. The only items marked were a small box containing the epaulets, badges etc and the Indian Capture gun. When he was alive, Reyes knew the material and had no need for marking anything. This bag would appear to be a Custer artifact, but there is no person alive who can attest to this. Est. $500 ~ $3,000 HWAC# 38047

Lot # 2408 Scabbards: Lower Musician's Scabbard and Unknown Scabbard c1840 1) This is the lower portion of a leather scabbard made for the Model 1840 Musician's sword. It also still retains the brass drag, found at the very bottom of the scabbard. 2) Obviously this is a 19th century item, but we have poured through every 19th century reference that we have, and we can only surmise that this is a scabbard designed to hold a blade or tool of some sort. From the Dick Reyes Collection, Carson City. Proudly displayed by Reyes on his mantle. Est. $200 ~ $1,000 HWAC# 38049

Lot # 2409 "Tenting on the Plains, or, General Custer in Kansas and Texas" by Elizabeth B. Custer 1895 Written by the wife of General Custer, the book details the couple's life and hardships during Custer's 1865 military march from Alexandria, Louisiana to Hempstead, Texas. The publisher is identified as New York: Harper & Brothers, 1895. This would make the book an early reprint edition. The cover is light brown decorated cloth, frontispiece, illustrated with drawings and maps, previous owner's name inside front board. Est. $100 ~ $200 HWAC# 41414

Lot # 2410 US Army Infantryman's Model 1872 belt frog Held the scabbard of the Springfield rifle bayonet. The US rosette is correct for the 1872 frog. Obviously this is an infantry item, as only infantrymen were issued full-length rifles, rather than cavalry carbines, which had no provision for attaching a bayonet. From the Dick Reyes Collection, Carson City. Displayed on Reyes' mantle for years. Possible

Custer family artifact. Est. $100 ~ $1,000 HWAC# 38050

Lot # 2411 .28 Caliber Double Cavity Bullet Mold 1840-1870. .28 caliber double cavity conical and ball bullet mold. Excellent condition, very nice mold. Est. $50 ~ $100 HWAC# 40715

Lot # 2429 Ornate Mid-Sized Embossed Game Scene Powder Flask 1830-1870 G.W. Ingram Hanging game flask. This flask has an internal spring, patent top with adjustable spout measuring 2.25 - 3 drams of powder. The flask is listed in Riling's Powder Flask book as number 602 with a description on page 317. Very ornate mid-size brass embossed game scene flask. Excellent ornate flask with powder release lever and upper lanyards. Heavily embossed excellent game scene. Very nice condition, small solder repairs at seam, but overall very beautiful. Meant for large pistol, shotgun, or rifle. No maker mark, excellent addition to any collection. 1830's - 1860's. Est. $220 ~ $425 HWAC# 40702

Lot # 2430 Persian Leather Powder Flask 1790-1840 Persian powder flask from carved sheep scrotum leather. Very unusual powder flask used in early America and Persia. Used for large powder firearms such as large bore shotguns and rifles. Vintage, 1790's to 1830's. Well made with Arabic designs. Measures approximately 9" x 3.5". Est. $280 ~ $350 HWAC# 40718

Lot # 2431 Royal Crest Antique Leather Powder Flask Antique leather powder flask embossed with royal crest. This flask bears the British coat of arms and was manufactured in London. Most likely made for a very good shotgun. Leather is in good shape and powder release works well. Est. $150 ~ $300 HWAC# 39805

Lot # 2432 Small Ornate Embossed Copper Pistol Flask Very nice ornate small embossed copper pistol flask with game scene and ornate design. Upper lanyard rings and lever powder release. Very nice 1830's to 1860's powder flask for pistol or small bore shotgun. Spout lever release spring broken. Flask has some dings but overall nice shape. Could be cleaned up, but would make a great addition to any percussion collection. Est. $150 ~ $350 HWAC# 40703

Lot # 2433 Unusual Arabic Style Pistol Flask with Ramrod. Unusual Arabic style pistol powder flask with ramrod. Made of steel. This flask is of the Arabic design, one hand use to load a .62 Caliber pistol with powder and with the other hand, ramrod the ball into the chamber. Quite unusual and is strictly for pistol. No maker marks, unusual in that it is made of steel instead of brass, but makes sense because of the ramrod. Very unique and would be a great addition to any European or Arabic arms collection. Est. $150 ~ $250 HWAC# 40706

Lot # 2434 Very Nice Pewter

Powder Flask 1830-1850 Very nice working pewter powder flask from the 1830's to 1840's. Extremely nice, grooved pewter flask with lanyard extensions and brass top. Silver spring for powder release. Small solder repairs at bottom, overall very nice. Est. $170 ~ $300 HWAC# 40701

Lot # 2437 Shoulder Holster for FBI Agent & Reno Chief of Police Clayton Phillips 1930s A 1939 Eubanks Leather Holster Co. (Boise, Idaho) leather shoulder holster for a police 38 special. This particular holster belonged to Clayton Phillips, an FBI agent under J. Edgar Hoover and Reno Police Chief. This is a high quality quick release brown leather shoulder holster like others worn by FBI agents in the 1930s and 1940s. Eubanks Leather Co. was in business from 1939-50 and changed hands a few times before being reformed by the family as the Idaho Leather Co. (still in business today). Holster is in excellent shape considering its age and would compliment a gun or police collection. Est. $200 ~ $400 HWAC# 42750

Lot # 2438 Elmer Keith Tooled Slim Jim Holster Modern reproduction of an 1870s tooled California 'SLIM JIM' holster from the estate of the late Elmer Keith, renown firearms author, historian and shooter and creator of the famous 44 Magnum caliber. Documented as one of his firearms holster with '44 army' written in ink by hand purportedly by Keith. Fits a modern or original Colt 44 conversion revolver. Est. $300 ~ $500 HWAC# 42728

Lot # 2439 Buscadero Gun Belt and Holster Great handtooled holster and belt wit silver plate tip and buckle. Used. The gun belt and holster known as the Buscadero was originally designed for Texas lawmen and the Hollywood cowboys in the 1920's. The rig combines a handtooled leather gun belt with one or two holsters. The holster is held in place by an elongated slot in the gun belt or sewn to the belt. Est. $200 ~ $400 HWAC# 42003

Lot # 2440 WW II German Sniper Scope This is a ZFK43 sniper scope with quick release mount. Extremely rare German sniper scope used on the equally rare German G-43, 8 mm, semi-automatic sniper rifle. The scope is marked "ZF K 43" and also "DOW A", serial number 42009. On the side of the scope is the number 2831 and above the 2831 is marked a large "U" and a diamond with the maker's mark inside the diamond and the number "45". The scope has excellent optics with a tri-center line. The scope is an ultra rare ZKF43 scope and mount. These rare scopes were produced in late '44 and early '45 by the Carl Zeiss Company in Jena as an improvement over the standard ZF4 scope. Scope is a zinc alloy casting which was a total departure from the previous ZFK model. It also featured redesigned wind-age and elevation knob with smooth turning that has a special pointer/quicker on the scope tube to specifically indicate the exact range or wind-age adjustment which provided a far more precise adjustment system than the previous model. It is believed that approximately 100 of these scopes were produced with very few surviving the war. Scope to mount clamps are missing. Est. $2,500 ~ $5,000 HWAC# 39811

Lot # 2441 WW II S & W "Victory" Revolver Holster Very scarce "Victory Holster" US marked 1943 Boyt military holster for the Smith and Wesson Victory revolver. These holsters were used throughout WW II for S & W .38 Caliber revolvers issued to both servicemen and citizens of England during the Victory revolver disbursement to English citizens. Boyt made holsters for most military handguns including the Colt 1911 and S & W Model 1917. The Victory revolver version are more scarce. Condition, marked Boyt 43, leather and stitching are in very good shape, leather could use treatment but is still soft. Great addition to any WW II or S & W collector. Est. $100 ~ $300 HWAC# 39814

Lot # 2442 Massachusetts Caleb Young (Constitutional Delegate) Sword c.1790 Masonry sword from a US Constitutional Convention Delegate, with 31.5" blade. Inlaid gold with Americana flags, drums, rifles and horns. Beautiful blue blade with embossing (acid etched, raised letters) "His Excellency, Caleb Strong" on the blade of sword in the blood sheath. Ivory handle with Masonry cross hand guard and Christian crosses either side of guard. Has irregular protective scabbard that is not original to sword.

Caleb Strong (1745-1819) assisted in drafting the Massachusetts State Constitution in 1779 and served as a state senator and on the Massachusetts Governor's Council before being elected to the inaugural United States Senate. In 1781 Strong was one of the lawyers (another was Worcester lawyer and future United States Attorney General Levi Lincoln, Sr.) who worked on a series of legal cases surrounding Quock Walker, a former slave seeking to claim his freedom. One of the cases, Commonwealth of Massachusetts v. Nathaniel Jennison, firmly established that slavery was incompatible with the new state constitution. Strong was politically active in the rebel cause during the American Revolutionary War. He played an influential role in the development of the United States Constitution at the 1788 Philadelphia Constitutional Convention. Strong narrowly missed his unforgettable place in history. He didn't sign the historic document because his wife became ill, leaving before the Constitutional Convention ended. Strong had opposed the electoral college format in electing a President, favoring a Legislature vote.

FIREARMS

Strong was a United States Senator during the first Senate Session where he played a leading role in the passage of the Judiciary Act of 1789, which established the federal court system.

He served as the sixth and tenth Governor of Massachusetts between 1800 and 1807, and again from 1812 until 1816. A leading member of the Massachusetts Federalist Party, his political success delayed the decline of the Federalists in Massachusetts.

Strong sought to retire from politics after losing the 1807 governor's race, but the advent of the War of 1812 brought him back to the governor's office as a committed opponent of the war. He refused United States Army requests that state militia be placed under army command, and in 1814 he sought to engage Nova Scotia Governor John Coape Sherbrooke in peace talks. The state and federal government's weak defense of Massachusetts' northern frontier during Strong's tenure contributed to the successful drive for Maine's statehood, which was granted in 1820. Est. $20,000 ~ $25,000 HWAC# 40723

Lot # 2443 Maine Major General Ames Deluxe Field Officer Presentation Sword and Scabbard c.1860s This sword was given to the Boswarth G.A.R. post by Major General Adelbert Ames early in the twentieth century. The sword had been given to Ames by the State of Maine citizens during the Civil War. Major General Ames was a remarkable man. He led the famous 20th Maine Infantry, became one of the civil wars youngest and most competent general officers. He was awarded the Medal of Honor and became Reconstruction

Governor of Mississippi. He also served as a volunteer General in the Spanish American War, and, at his death in 1933, he was the last surviving Civil War general. General Ames married General Benjamin Butlers' daughter and is buried in Lowell, Mass. This sword is unique and one of the finest Civil War swords to come to light in a long time. This sword comes with strong provenance and is a most unique and beautiful piece of Civil War Americana. Est. $7,500 ~ $12,500 HWAC# 40722

Lot # 2444 California, San Francisco Ornate Masonic Saber
Extremely beautiful, very ornate antique Masonic ceremonial saber with scabbard, with gold embossed blade with the markings of California Consistory No. 5 A & A.S.R. on one side of the blade with the name "George Eaton Daniels" on the other side, as well as the scabbard. Made by B. Pasquale Co. of San Francisco. Pasquale was thought to be a Western branch of the Ames Saber Co. Extremely nice ebony handle masonic saber with very ornate designs on both saber and scabbard. George Eaton Daniels was born in 1889 and died in 1951. He was a dentist in S.F. during that time period and was very involved with dental and masonic organizations. The B. Pasquale Co. was established in 1854 and produced military equipment and masonic uniforms in the 1850's to immediately after WW I. A very rare unique and desirable saber that would be impossible to reproduce today for less than $10,000. Est. $500 ~ $1,500 HWAC# 40721

Lot # 2445 1863 Musician's Sabre (Sword) The Model 1840 non-commissioned officer sword was for sergeants and were ceremonial in purpose. It was to convey rank and to signal movement in drills. The sword could be used in battle, but only as a weapon of last resort. This was primarily a U.S. Army Musicians sword, usually carried by a drummer for use during the Civil War. However it is very similar to the standard U.S. Army Non-Commissioned Officer's sword. The sword is marked "C.ROBY/W.CHELMSFORD MA " in a circle format (early circle address) and the opposite side has the markings "US/1863/F.S.S." The blade is in very nice shape with no repairs or breakage. Nice aged patina on both the brass handle and steel blade. The sword has no scabbard. Nice Civil War vintage sword. Est. $500 ~ $600 HWAC# 38122

Lot # 2446 Homemade Bowie Knife Homemade Bowie knife made from wagon steel. Blade area is 10.25" long, 2.5" wide--with handle part total length is 15". Probably had a wood handle originally. Found in the 40 mile desert, Emigrant Trail. Est. $100 ~ $200 HWAC# 41907

Lot # 2447 Will & Finck Hunting Knife Rare Will & Finck Hunting Knife. 8.5" knife. Will and Finck were considered the leading business in their line. They produced exceptional cutlery that was purchased by a national and international clientele.

Also includes 9 other smaller knives that include a fixed 5" Western made in Boulder CO with sheath. An Old Timer 3" 3 Blade folding and others. Est. $80 ~ $150 HWAC# 40174

Lot # 2449 Original "Brass" Knuckles c.1900 Original iron "Brass" knuckles. These are from the collection of Redondo Beach naturalist, Mr. Buckston who died in 1928. Brass knuckles, also sometimes called "knuckles, knucks, brass knucks, knucklebusters, knuckledusters", or "a classic", are weapons used in hand-to-hand combat. Brass knuckles are pieces of metal shaped to fit around the knuckles. Despite their name, they were often made from other metals. Est. $100 ~ $200 HWAC# 41924

Lot # 2450 Rare Silver Inlaid 13 Silver Stars on a Whitney 1808 Contract Musket

An outstanding and extremely rare Whitney Contract 73 caliber Musket Highly ornate and engraved Whitney Musket believed produced by John Joseph Henry of Philadelphia Pennsylvania for the Whitney Contract of 1808 and 1812. 2,707 Whitney Contract Muskets were produced initially by Henry with an unknown portion of muskets produced by him well into 1815. This arm has a 'JN' cartouche inspector's mark on the left side of the breach stamped into the stock. It is the Arms Inspector's Mark of John Nicholson Jr., arms inspector from 1799-1807. Although it is impossible to say exactly when, where and how an arm came into existence, this fabulous Ornate Musket fits right in with the time, date and place of where muskets and silver inlaid Pennsylvania rifles were being produced and decorated with silver. Although most Whitney Contract muskets are of 69 caliber, this fabulous piece MICs out at 73 caliber plus. This rifle is an art of American gun making of the American Revolutionary War as well as The War of 1812. Adorning 13 inlaid SILVER STARS is not a coincidence. It was to symbolize the 13 colonies and the Independence of America as a Sovereign Nation. The Silver Eagle on top of the Silver World would most likely have denoted the independence of American Merchant vessels that were being boarded by both French and English Navy's and being commandeered without respect for American independence and severance during the time period after the Revolutionary War and leading to The War Of 1812. It is possible, because of the decorations and the caliber and that the cartouche is not in a circle and appears to have been burned into the stock as opposed to stamped, that this is the first Musket of the series. More research is needed to verify this beautiful museum piece's history. Est. $5,000 ~ $7,500 HWAC# 42746

Lot # 2451 1842 Springfield Smoothbore Musket Springfield 1849 marked Smoothbore musket. The 1842 Smoothbore muskets represents the first percussion cap (ignition system) U.S. military arm. The U.S. Military realized it needed to modernize from the Flintlock System of revolution era times to the much quicker and cleaner percussion cap system. These muskets were produced from 1844-1854 in 69 caliber with the earliest ones being used in the War of 1847 in Texas against Mexico and the Civil War on both sides. This arm has been cut down to a carbine size with the ramrod removed. The original barrel length was in the nature of 40 inches; this piece is currently 24 inches. Condition is marginal as it has seen much use. Action is not functioning and the furniture is intact but could use some TLC. Overall a fine piece of military significance. Excellent as a conversation piece of American History. Est. $350 ~ $750 HWAC# 42744

Lot # 2452 Springfield 1861 Civil War Musket 1861 Springfield Civil War Musket of 58 caliber percussion cap and ball. It has a 37 inch barrel and lanyard rings and is in relatively good shape considering it is at least 150 years old. This veteran is missing its ramrod and cocks but does not hammer down as the spring is either weak or broken. A wonderful piece of American History that would accent any Civil War Arms collection or would look great in a den or office as a conversation piece. Est. $400 ~ $800 HWAC# 42741

FIREARMS

Lot # 2453 Enfield 1862 Tower Civil War Musket The Tower Muskets were a British design musket of 59 caliber sent to both sides during the Civil War. The 'TOWER' was for the Tower of London which was an Armory during the time of the Civil War. The 34 ½ inch barrel, 59 caliber musket was for the most part a twin to the 1861 Springfield 58 caliber U.S. made musket. Both saw service on both sides during the Civil War. This arm is in excellent condition for its age. It has a ramrod but no lanyard rings. It has obvious handling marks as it most likely saw battlefield use. It needs some action work. A wonderful piece of history for a Civil War Collector or a conversation piece for the den or mantle. Est. $800 ~ $1,200 HWAC# 42742

Lot # 2454 1863 Springfield Rifle-Musket marked S.N.&W.T.C for Massachusetts Under Contract by the state of Massachusetts, Samuel Norris and W.T. Clements won the bidding to produce 11,000 muskets for the State Militia for the war effort. There was an 1861 and an 1863 musket run at a bid of $206,128 which was the lowest bid and in the quickest time to produce. This musket has been professionally shortened in the period from a 40" barrel with three bands to a 30" barrel with two bands. It is 58 caliber and still retains the 'TULIP HEAD' ramrod. It functions well and has a repaired stock that was done professionally in the time period. It has a U.S. on the buttplate and stamped in the top of the wood stock are the #s 2 and 21. Painted on the left side of the stock, in period paint, are the numbers '32'. There are supposed to be the cartouches of "A.J.N" in a rectangle and "J.H." in a circle, but they are not visible to the naked eye. One very interesting item is that the original lanyard has survived with the gun. Overall, a beautiful piece of Civil War History and an identified Union weapon from the Massachusetts Militia. Est. $1,200 ~ $1,800 HWAC# 42743

1870 and AMES MFG. CO. CHICOPEE MASS.' It has a brass fish scale handle and a muzzle ring of .077" Condition is about 70%. Est. $300 ~ $500 HWAC# 42727

Lot # 2455 Ames Model 1871 Springfield Armory Bayonet This model 1870 Springfield Armory Navy Rolling Block rifle bayonet is marked 'U.S.N. G.G.S.

Lot # 2456 Japanese Matchlock (Tanegashima) Introduced to Japan in 1543 by the Portuguese, the Matchlock was soon employed by the Samurai Class and the foot soldiers. Once used in battle it became a mainstay weapon. This Matchlock, although in need of professional restoration, has survived literally for hundreds of years in relatively good shape. The engravings on the barrel are of Japanese Serpents, Swans and Clouds. Originally inlaid with gold and silver, some traces still remain. The Hardwood stock is primarily intact but needs some repairs. Some mechanical parts are missing but replacement parts are available. All and all a beautiful piece of ancient firearm history that would look great adorning any den, office or gun room. Est. $1,500 ~ $2,500 HWAC# 42747

Lot # 2457 Remington Rolling Block Foraging 20 gauge Shotgun c.1872 31" barrel, single shot Remington Black Powder 20 gauge shotgun. These guns were carried by mounted troops for foraging while in country or on campaign. The Remington rolling block was one of the first successful cartridge systems used for both rifle and shotgun. This particular gun is in extremely nice condition with a clean smooth bore, nice furniture, excellent patina, and excellent working action. This firearm would make an excellent display for the den or study or can be used with the hard to get, but available, 20 gauge black powder shotgun shells. Est. $300 ~ $750 HWAC# 42722

Lot # 2458 Remington Rolling Block Heavy Barrel 4570 c.1874 This is a restored and re-barreled Remington rolling block target rifle in 4570 cal. Deluxe wood with silver echelon for personal initials and silver deluxe fore end cap on foregrip. Deluxe long range Lyman style tang sight. Blue encased colored butt plate and blade style front sight. This is an original 1874 Remington rolling block that has been updated and restored with half octagon, half round modern heavy barrel. This gun is capable of modern smokeless powder ammunition and has the best of both old and new. Original Remington rolling block that can be displayed in a den or office and taken to the range to fire either smokeless or black powder 4570 rounds. FFL or CNR required. Not admissible in some municipalities. Please check local ordinances. Est. $750 ~ $1,500 HWAC# 42725

Lot # 2459 Perkins English Muzzle Loading Black Powder Shotgun 12 gauge side by side muzzle loading shotgun. Top of barrel marked 'PERKINS LONDON FINE TWIST', duel triggers. One piece Walnut stock with light checkering. A very nice English shotgun from the 1840-50s era that has nice engraving on the hammer, receiver and trigger guard. Both hammers work in the half cock and full cock positions. Loading rod is missing but most likely could be replicated. A very nice piece. Like the guns used in the recent movie Free State of Jones. Est. $100 ~ $200 HWAC# 21216

Lot # 2460 Crescent Firearms Company 16 GA Military Foraging Shotgun Crescent Firearms Company collaborated with H.D. Folsom Co. of New York to import single barrel shotguns called 'Hardware Guns'. There were at least 100 different trade names used between 1890 and 1930. This one is marked 'BLUE WHISTLER'. Interesting to note this arm has the military inspector R.A.C. on both sides of the receiver and the buttstock. This stands for Renaldo A. Carr, who was a military firearms inspector around the turn of the last century. The military, especially mounted troops, would usually carry a small gauge shotgun for foraging if they were running low on food. This piece is being sold as a parts project and has more value to a military arms collector than a general arms collector. Condition is poor. Black powder relic. Est. $75 ~ $125 HWAC# 42736

Lot # 2462 G.L. Rasch Braunschweig 16 GA Highly Ornate Hammer Breach Loading Shotgun G.L. Rasch was a German gunmaker who lived and worked in Braunschweig Germany and was known for high quality ornate shotguns from the latter part of the 19th century until the turn of the 20TH century. This black powder breech loading shotgun is extremely ornate with heavy hand engraving and tight wood checkering and exotic horn forend release and horn pistol stock. Also has original horn butt piece and very nice lanyard rings. 31 inch barrels with excellent bore that could use some polishing. Overall, a wonderful exotic piece that is a time capsule into the art of highly finished arms. A great addition to any shotgun collection and especially for German collectors. Est. $2,500 ~ $4,500 HWAC# 42740

Lot # 2463 Rare Cape Gun Made by S. Knop Hameln 16 Gauge X 43 Mauser combo Cape Hammer gun, black powder shotgun /rifle with extensive and exotic engraving and checkering. Nice cheekpiece with horn underlever and horn pistol grip. Nice bores. A rare piece of quality German gun making from the 19th century. 29 5/8 inch Damascus barrels with nice lanyards. Beautiful original arm with lots of classic shotgun design. Excellent for the collector or black powder competition shooter. Est. $1,000 ~ $1,500 HWAC# 42739

Lot # 2464 British Blunderbuss from 1760, Ketland & Co. A beautiful example of a wonderful early boarding weapon. This Flintlock Blunderbuss is 30 inches long with a beautiful 12 3/8 inch brass cannon style barrel with a bore of 1 1/3 inches in diameter. This finely made piece has a steel lock with the name "KETLAND & Co." embossed on it and the word 'LONDON' stamped on top of the barrel. Excellent furniture and fine fitting excellent brass works with original wooden ramrod in brass holders. This excellent work of art is showcased in a very expensive high polish wood and glass showcase worthy of any office, den, or gunroom for display. Est. $2,500 ~ $4,500 HWAC# 42745

FIREARMS

Lot # 2465 Hawaii Pair of Consecutive Number Winchester Model 94 Saddle Ring Carbines Hilo Hawaii Police Department 1918 issued 30-30 saddle ring carbines from a roster of 21 guns issued to that dept. These were the only two that were consecutive serial numbers. Extremely rare to find two Winchesters that have come down through time together as these two have. These were documented with the Hilo Hawaii Police Department as late as 1924. Both arms show use as you would expect of a police ordinance firearm. Truly an American classic firearm in a wonderful high power caliber. The Winchester Saddle Ring Carbine is used extensively both for practical use as well as movies and exhibition use. For the Winchester Collector, a rare opportunity to have a pair of consecutive arms in your collection. C&R or FFL required. Not transferrable to all municipalities. Est. $2,500 ~ $5,000 HWAC# 42737

Lot # 2466 Exposition Grade Winchester Model 88 Lever Action. Serial Number: 15338. Built in 1955 - the 1st year of production. Caliber 308 which was the first year for that caliber. Fully and deeply engraved. Blueing is 98% or better. There are a few minor scratches on the wood. Has an ivory ram's head horn cap. Unfortunately no records exist on the Model 88's, but experts have given the opinion that it is a presentation model. This is a very impressive and functional model. Includes two extra magazines and a tooled case. Est. $1,900 ~ $2,900 HWAC# 42720

Lot # 2467 Remington .50 Caliber Saddle Ring Carbine Split Breech 1864-65 Remington Civil War .50 caliber saddle ring carbine, similar to a split breech, with original carbine style Remington sights. A very rare post-Civil War breech loading carbine with only 5000 produced. Assembled at Springfield Armory in 1868 with actions/receivers made by Remington. It is believed a great many were scrapped, which makes it a scarce piece, according to Flayderman. Condition: 20" Barrel, excellent rifling, excellent action. Breech works well. Excellent furniture. Looks to have the original lanyard rings removed by Remington as it was done more than likely for the commercial market. A very rare and excellent single-shot carbine for the collector of breech loading Civil War carbines.

The tang is marked Remington Illion N.Y. USA. Patented May 3, November 18, 1864, April 17, 1865. This rifle is mounted with front blade sight and three position hinged leaf sight marked out to 300 and 500 yards. There is a British proof mark on the left side barrel band. Stock is smooth in very nice condition. The saddle ring is intact and the action works well. Bore is smooth and nice as is the overall finish of the metal part of the gun. It is reported that some were shipped overseas to foreign governments. This particular rifle has 5 slash marks on the left of the fore-end stock which denoted "kill marks" of the day.

This appears to be a British export with no cartouche marks or U.S. markings on the gun.

A very rare and beautiful piece of historic importance for the collector or the black powder shooter. Est. $2,500 ~ $4,500 HWAC# 40719

Lot # 2468 Remington Model 1875 Single Action Army Third model 1875 44 WCF (44-40 black powder) made after 1882 in nickel plate with original wood grips and excellent bore.

Manufactured without lanyard ring. Original nickel with nice blued screws. Functions and locks up tight. Black powder antique. Est. $5,000 ~ $7,000 HWAC# 42730

Lot # 2469 1st Generation Artillery Colt Single Action Army from The Custer Era A 5 1/2 inch barrel Artillery Colt Single Action Army With the usual multitude of serial numbers and inspectors marks. This excellent condition Artillery Colt has serial numbers and markings dating from 1874-1877 with a Grip Cartouche very clear on the left side grip of Ordinance Inspector Capt. Frank Heath 1884-85. This Single Action Colt Appears to have a lot of remaining case and blue color as well as excellent left grip cartouche markings. Front sight fanning marks still remain on both sides of the front sight which is almost always worn off. The barrel appears to have been inspected by Henry Nettleton and the backstrap was inspected by Ainsworth.

The backstrap serial number is 4818 which is in the range of known Custer era Colts serial #s; 4812, 4815 and 4865. This Colt is in fine original condition as well mechanical condition. The upper left hand grip appears to have purposeful notched marks in it typically denoting 'Kill' marks or 'Notched gun handle'. Early two line pat'd dates on frame with the marking "U S". An extremely nice 'non messed with' Artillery Colt that would be an excellent addition to an advanced Colt Collector Collection. Est. $5,000 ~ $6,500 HWAC# 42733

Lot # 2470 Belgian Colt 1851 Navy Look Alike Rare large European made single action revolver marked "Hudson Bay" on the barrel in approximately 9mm rim-fire or .38 caliber rim-fire. The pistol measures 14.5" overall with 7" barrel. Features 6 shot cylinder, octagon barrel, similar to 1851 Colt Navy design, removable ejector rod mounted under the bottom of the barrel, nicely scroll engraved frame, backstrap, trigger guard, hammer with rolled cylinder scene, very nice dark walnut checkered grip with engraved metal grip cap. Right side of frame is engraved "Henot's Patent". The revolver is approximately 90% original blued finish. Gun appears to be smooth bore. Very crisp and tight action. This gun appears to be a shot loaded rim-fire round. Belgian proof marks. Case hardened hammer and trigger. Integral barrel sight on muzzle and breach end of barrel. Extremely well made and very rare. Black Powder Antique. Approximately 1875, obsolete cartridge revolver. Black Powder Cartridge Revolver may require FFL or C&R in some municipalities. Est. $4,000 ~ $6,000 HWAC# 39812

Lot # 2471 Colt 'New Line' .32 Caliber revolver Colt 'New Line' .32 caliber 5 shot spur trigger revolver. Circa 1870-1885. Nickel with 2-piece walnut grips. Single action only. The lot includes a Colt 'New Line' .32 caliber parts gun. Black Powder Antiques. Est. $300 ~ $450 HWAC# 39802

Lot # 2472 Colt 1860 Army Colt 1860 Army revolver. Rare "Mormon Avenging Angel". .44 caliber percussion 6 shot revolver with 1 piece oiled walnut grips. Serial Number: 689xx Matching numbers Colt (3" Barrel). Nice working revolver, with nice overall patina. Brass trigger guard, steel backstrap. About 80% cylinder scene. (Side Note: This gun has a large "E" stamped on bottom of the barrel and a medium sized "k" stamped on both cylinder and barrel. There is also a Gaelic "E" stamped on the backstrap and cylinder, a mark unfamiliar to the cataloger, which could be the gunsmith's markings who shortened the barrel and added the sight. It is interesting that the maker/owner marked the gun with the same letter in Gaelic and English.) Works well, good overall, a fine addition to any Colt revolver collector, especially large frame Colt Army Collectors. Black Powder Antique. Est. $2,000 ~ $4,000 HWAC# 39810

Lot # 2473 Colt 1902 38 Rimless Smokeless Semi-Automatic Pistol Original Colt 38 Rimless semi-automatic pistol. One of John Browning's very first designs for his now famous automatic pistols and rifles and military arms. Browning contracted with both Colt and Winchester on his patents and this arm was second only to the 'Colt 1900 semi automatic' model. This particular pistol was manufactured in 1903 and has about 80% Colt original bluing and 98% original hard rubber grips. A very nice addition to any Colt semi-automatic collector's collection. FFL of C&R required. Not transferable to all municipalities. Est. $2,000 ~ $3,000 HWAC# 42735

Lot # 2474 Colt Model 1878 Double Action Royal Mounted Police With Original Brown Flap Holster Colt 45 caliber, original nickel plated, 7 1/2 inch barrel, manufactured in 1885. Rare Royal Canadian Mounted Police Revolver of the period of the Boar War and numerous rebellions in 1885.

Officers were required to buy their own equipment including firearms. Part of their equipment was a belt with numerous accouterments including a leather brown flap holster. This Colt fits the holster extremely well especially since like the revolver it is in extremely good shape considering it is possibly from 1885 as well. Markings on the Colt that attribute it to the RMP are "223. MD". The inside flap of the holster has hand written in ink 'E.A.G. VIII C.M.I.R'. No maker marks on holster but is consistent with other RMP holsters and revolvers of the period. Condition is excellent, with original nickel and hardly used hard rubber grips. Holster is soft and pliable in excellent condition. Black powder antique. Est. $5,500 ~ $6,500 HWAC# 42729

Lot # 2475 Colt Single Action Army 2nd Generation 22 Matched Set Colt 2nd generation 22 caliber single action Armys that were made in 1961 and are only 55 serial numbers apart. Both arms are original nickel with nice aged wood grips. Both have matching factory scroll engraving on the butt of the back strap. One arm has the name 'Jack w Slaughter' professionally embossed on the right side of the barrel. Both arms function well and would look great in a display or a double gun rig for Cowboy Action Shooting. Excellent and hard to come by 2nd generation 22 LR Colt's. FFL or C&R Require. Not transferrable to all municipalities. Est. $1,000 ~ $1,200 HWAC# 42734

Lot # 2476 Colt's Dragon .44 Caliber Conical and Ball Mold 1860's Colt's Patent Dragon .44 Caliber conical and ball double mold. Made of steel, this bullet mold was used in the cased sets of .44 Caliber Dragons 1st, 2nd, and 3rd models. Marked "Colt's Patent". Today, it is hard to find marked ball and conical molds. Est. $200 ~ $300 HWAC# 40707

Lot # 2477 Historic Set of Cased Black Powder Replica Pistols

A wonderful four gun set of authentic replica black powder flintlock and percussion pistols with all accessories in a period style alligator covered wooden case. Replicas include: Arms 1861 Navy Colt 36 caliber (made by Replica Arms Co. of Texas in the 1960s); Saw Handle Louisiana Dueller Target Pistol; Henry Deringer 41 Caliber (the same style gun that killed Lincoln); and an 18th century Flintlock Dueling Pistol (like the one used by Burr and Hamilton in their famous duel). All are replicas. For experiencing target shooting at the range of the 1860s. This beautiful set is in a custom alligator covered, period wooden case with dark velvet lined and French fitted slots for each pistol as well as period cleaning rods. The case has multiple compartments for powder measures, cleaning patches, percussion caps and flint as well as a hidden compartment for a pistol stand. A very unique and special one of a kind set of cased pistols customized by someone who not only loved historic pistols but used them for black powder shooting as well. Please inspect. Est. $2,400 ~ $3,400 HWAC# 42724

Lot # 2478 Merwin and Hulbert 44 WCF Model 1873

Lot # 2494 California, San Francisco California Grays Military Hat c1910 Thirty-two years ago [1890] a group of Sunday School boys formed a military club which used to meet in the back yard of Calvary Church. In those days broomsticks represented guns, and finally real guns took their place and in due time blue uniforms lent dignity to the club. Twelve years ago [1910] it was decided to adopt something more distinctive and the natty uniform worn by West Point Cadets was finally adopted. By way of retrospection at the time of the war the club numbered one hundred and twenty active members out of which they had one hundred and four service stars. The few that remained at home held the organization together until those who were in the service returned. At the present time there are one hundred and fifty active members and four hundred associate members. [San Francisco Examiner. 29 December 1922, page 10] Leather is cracking with age. Otherwise it is complete and in good condition. Est. $100 ~ $300 HWAC# 42666
